Berlin Problem Discussions In Secret Session

Russia Shows Apparent Willingness To Consider
Acheson Plan Basis

SEE SOME HOPE FOR BIG FOUR ACCORD

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, I. N. S.

PARIS, June 4.—The foreign ministers of United States, Britain and France conferred among themselves today prior to meeting with Russia in secret session to discuss the Berlin problem.

Russia's apparent willingness to use the "Acheson plan" for Berlin as a basis for discussion renewed hopes of a Big Four accord on the divided city.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky reportedly yesterday indicated that Russia is ready to take part in supervising free elections in Berlin.

Will Dine At U. S. Embassy

Vishinsky, it was learned, accepted an invitation from U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson to dine tonight at the American embassy in Paris.

The western Big Three met at the French foreign office at noon, and will confer with the Soviets at 3 p. m.

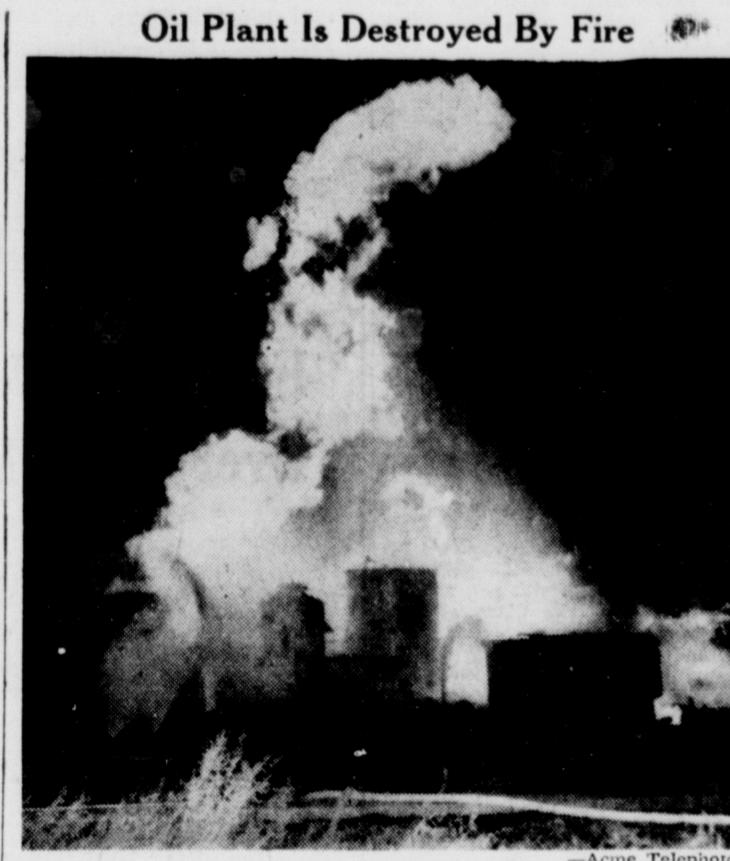

The Acheson plan calls for free elections; establishment of an all Berlin government; drafting of a constitution; revival of the four-power Kommandatura; and reduction of occupation costs.

Vishinsky's reported agreements on the free election proposal was something of a surprise, since most observers feel the Soviet-sponsored Berlin Communists would take a fearful drubbing in an honest campaign. The ministers were even understood to have discussed a date for the all-Berlin voting under four-power supervision.

One knotty problem which the ministers apparently have not yet tackled in regard to Berlin is the

County F.F.F. Youths Going To State Meet

Lawrence County Will Be Well Represented At An- nual Activities Week

Lawrence county will be well represented at the annual FFA Activities Week at Penn State college starting Wednesday, June 8. District Vocational Supervisor James C. Fink announced today.

The program which starts with luncheon at noon Wednesday, will include judging contests, agricultural demonstrations, and a recreational program, including an elimination contest to pick the best mushball team in the state, which the local area team hopes to annex.

President To Sing

The 100-piece FFA band will be reorganized at this time, and will play during the week. The county will be represented on the band by Richard Kelso of Union township, Lynn Fowler of Union township will be on the entertainment program, and will sing several tenor solos. The week's program will be broadcast on a state-wide hookup.

Judging contests will be held Wednesday afternoon, and Thursday through Friday morning will be devoted to agricultural demonstrations of various kinds, to be conducted by the college technicians. Stunt nights will take place on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Two Appeals Court judges turned down applications to restore bail but the full Court of Appeals will grant the plea Monday.

John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, Henry Winston, organizational secretary for the party and Gus Hall, Ohio party chairman, were remanded by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina after a tumultuous session.

Children's Day will be observed in some Sunday schools and churches about the city on Sunday. In most cases, the entire Sunday school and church services will be given over to the youngsters. Other churches plan the observance on June 12.

Outdoor sleeping was invoked in some quarters last night. PA News is told. Most indoor sleeping rooms were found to be pretty uncomfortable the fore part of the night. Some city residents have moved to summer camps for the next few months to escape the hot weather.

The three are among 11 top American Communists on trial for conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force.

In addition, Judge Medina indicated that contempt and possible disbarment proceedings may be instituted against defense counsel at the conclusion of the trial. He said:

"I shall leave that to the proper authorities to take care of in due course, but you need be under no misapprehension. I have been fully cognizant of your contemptuous conduct and your impudence."

Noted Western Banker Is Dead

SAN MATEO, Calif., June 4.—(INS)—Messages of condolences arrived at Pier 88 in New York today and their chief told newsmen "we are here to take over the Batory when she docks."

The Polish motorship Batory is the vessel aboard which Communist Gerhardt Eisler fled the country last month.

The State Department previously had announced the possibility the U. S. government would take the ship in "forfeit" for its master's failure to yield Eisler and embraced the Lutheran faith last February.

Three Communists Remanded To Jail

Editor Of Daily Worker Is Sentenced To 30 Days On Contempt Charge

NEW YORK, June 4.—(INS)—John W. Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, was sentenced on Friday to 30 days in jail for contempt of court and two other defendants in the Communist conspiracy trial were remanded to jail.

The two defendants were ordered to jail as the result of a wild courtroom uproar which immediately followed the sentencing of Gates.

Those remanded were Henry Winston and Gus Hall, both of whom had been free on bail along with the other defendants in the trial of the 11 Communist leaders charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Gates was sentenced when, for the second time in two days, he had defied Federal Judge Harold R. Medina by refusing to answer questions put to him under cross-examination.

It was a scene unprecedented in federal court in New York.

College Teacher Shortage Problem

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., June 4.—(INS)—The post war shortage of college teachers is one of the chief problems confronting American higher education, President Paul S. Havens told Wilson College graduates today.

In an alumnae day address, he said the problem is only "slightly less acute than a year ago and pointed out that the teaching profession lost a generation of graduate students during war years.

turn. Some years an icy blast would blow and bring with it a bit of snow and those would be the years when the peach crop would be gone. The blossoms would blacken and fall off, but in a few days warmth would return and the storm would be forgotten.

"Then would come the day when the ground was warm enough so that we could shed our shoes and go barefoot. And our feet, tender after a winter of imprisonment in shoes, felt each pebble, and the tender grass tickled as we stepped out into approaching summer.

"By this time the birds had returned and the bees had begun inspecting every blossom in the fields and the gardens. Night insects sang in the big sycamore outside the bedroom window and their incessant lullaby through the quiet dark hours.

"Occasionally a night wind sprang up and rustled the leaves, or moaned around the eaves, but these all were nature's sounds and only added to the sleep inducing atmosphere of a world at peace.

"The brief hour between dawn and sunrise gave the earth the luxury of awakening slowly. The dew glistening on the grass, the fragrance of coffee and bacon that mingled with the smell of fresh earth and flowers, and the sounds of awakened life in the barnyard, all bring back memories of a beauty that cannot be duplicated from an apartment window, no matter how magnificent or thrilling the view from it may be."

Mickey Rooney Is Married Third Time

HOLLYWOOD, June 4.—(INS)—Mickey Rooney, the half-pint film star with a predilection for tall beauties, set up housekeeping today with his third wife without benefit of the usual idyllic honeymoon.

Rooney's new bride is blonde 24-year-old Martha Vickers, wed in a double ring ceremony late yesterday.

The Rooney's passed up a honey-moon. They moved, instead, into a new house Rooney has built in the San Fernando valley.

It was the freckled-faced, kid-actor's now 3 marriage to towering beauties. The 28-year-old Rooney said after his third-time-is-a-charm wedding:

indoors, unless you have a playroom meant for such. Send the out of doors for games of chase and vigorous romping. When they begin romping roughly indoors send the guests home after a warning and your young child to sit in a chair for 20 to 30 minutes.

After all, the key to your success with this big problem is adequate restraint and guidance of your own child or children. Make clear to the young guest he is welcome to return if he will abide by the rules of your home. As you can see, the younger the guest, the less delicate are the matters involved.

But some children, even where there are several of them in the same family, who restrain themselves properly when no other children are in, may grow rowdy when they have young guests. There may be two reasons: The guests may excite the visited children and these children may discover that you hesitate to discipline your own children when their friends are in.

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

The Lawrence County commissioners have rejected the tax abatement plan offered by Act 527.

Under the provisions of this act, any taxpayer who pays all his taxes by November 1, can include in his payments any back taxes, without interest or penalties.

The commissioners felt there is no necessity for such an act at this time and also that it penalizes the taxpayer who pays his taxes on time. The law requires a re-enactment resolution before June 21, otherwise the act is effective.

If the rejection is to be complete in this county every taxing body in the county must reject it before June 21. This includes city council, boro councils, and all other boards.

The act was one of those that got through without much attention paid to it. The county commissioners' association found it had been passed and signed and has notified all county commissioners of the status of the act.

The local county commissioners will notify all taxing bodies of the necessity of rejecting it before June 21 if it is to become completely outlawed in this county.

MANY SENTENCES

The "class" before Judge W. Walter Braham on Friday was a large one. Apparently many offenders wanted to get their cases disposed of before the grand jury meets on Monday.

JAMES STOUFFER, second offense for driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and three months to the county jail.

Andy Kopazy, second offense, driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and three months to the county jail.

Albert Rink, driving while intoxicated, fined $100 and costs and thirty days in the county jail. Out in three days of the fine and costs are paid.

William J. Siebanoller, driving while intoxicated, fined $100 and costs and thirty days to the county jail. Out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

Eugene F. Hanna, operating a motor vehicle after suspension of license. Fined $100 and costs or sixty days in the county jail.

Lewis J. Fletcher, failure to stop, fined $100 and costs and sixty days in the county jail.

William A. Jackson, a tramp, costs and thirty days in the county jail.

Edward R. McAllister, accessory after the fact (robbery), fined $50 and costs and jail sentence suspended upon payment of fine and costs.

William Lutz, larceny, $1 fine and costs, and 6 to 12 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

GRAND JURY MONDAY

The grand jury meets Monday morning with Judge John G. Lamoree charging the jury.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Judge John G. Lamoree has granted a divorce to Alfred L. Tirre from Jennie S. Tirre.

TO SUBMIT PLANS

County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., will submit a plan of the proposed detention home to the grand jury Monday. The plan calls for a one story structure upon the Early property, near the court house. If the grand jury approves the plan it is possible that bids will be asked within a short time.

DENIES DIVORCE

Judge John G. Lamoree has denied a divorce to Claude D. Snyder from his wife, Mary Francis Snyder. The case was contested. Judge Lamoree found that the complainant had not made out a case sufficiently strong enough to warrant the granting of a divorce.

She behaved like a little soldier all through the meal, never uttering a word.

As coffee was being served, however, she felt she simply had to say something. She waited to put in her two cents worth. "Do you ladies know there are a kind of dog with two rows of buttons on its stummick?"

Mischa Elman, the violinist, played a concert at the Philadelphia Academy of Music on Dec. 1, another at Carnegie Hall Dec. 3, and then called it a day until the following January. "This is one year," he explained, "that I did my Christmas Chopin early."

GUARD WINTER WOOLENS WITH PROPER STORAGE

Homemakers should act now to prevent the moths from using good woolens for food during the warm summer season. Every year good woolen garments may be unfit to use because of moth damage. Damage can be expensive if woolen clothes are not cared for properly.

The following advice is given for the care of woolens. Dry-clean or wash all garments to be stored. If the garment is to be washed, use mild soapsuds and lukewarm water. The homemaker is warned against storing soiled or stained wool garments. They are more difficult to clean after being stored for a season, and are more likely to attract moths than cleaned woolens.

Occasionally a garment can be put away without being dry-cleaned or washed. Give the garment a thorough airing and brush the wrong side, seam edges, pockets, and other hidden places where dust collects and moth eggs are often deposited.

After woolens are clean, they may be put into tightly wrapped packages, airtight garment bags, trunks or closets. Put small wool articles into airtight tin cans or boxes. Homemakers are warned to remember that moths can enter tiny openings. Use gummed paper to seal the boxes. Naphthalene flakes, paradichlorobenzene crystals, or spray give added protection. Renew crystals or flakes once during summer, or spray several times. Label everything carefully to save endless hunting.

SELECT GADGETS WHICH PAY FOR THEMSELVES

One of a homemaker's problems in this day of fascinating gadgets is to select only those which will be worth their initial cost and the space they occupy.

Any gadget that can save more time and energy than doing the job by hand should be considered. But the homemaker is also warned that many a gadget seems more practical than it actually is because of the tricks of the demonstrator. A homemaker who is susceptible to supersalesmanship will soon over-crowd her kitchen and find she does not always get the service she expected from gadgets she buys.

The gadget that goes unused for many days is a poor buy. Although it may cost but a dime, the unused gadget is an unwise investment.

Homemakers should choose gadgets carefully. Important small equipment includes measuring spoons and cups, can openers, spoons and rubber scrapers. She tells homemakers to be sure measuring equipment is standard and handles are heat-resistant and easy to hold.

Housewares departments are again becoming full of gadgets. The warning is repeated—Don't fail merely for the demonstration, but weigh the usefulness of the gadget before buying it.

LEADING IN ARTIFICIAL BREEDING

Dairy artificial breeding in Pennsylvania of which the work being done in Lawrence county is a part, tops all of the leading dairy states on a percentage basis.

Last year 165,235 cows, or 17 per cent of all the 955,000 dairy cows in the state, were bred artificially, as compared to 12 per cent in Wisconsin and 11 per cent in New York.

Dairy extension specialists expect that 20 per cent of the total Pennsylvania dairy cow population of breeding age will be included in this program in 1949.

Artificial breeding is the fastest growing dairy program ever launched in the United States for herd improvement.

ROTCONE WILL KILL MEXICAN BEAN BEETLES

Mexican bean beetles, waiting to damage or destroy table beans of all kinds, can be controlled by applying rotenone spray or dust to the plants, making sure the under side of the leaves are covered with the insecticide. Apply the spray or dust every ten days until the bean pods begin to form.

Beetles and their yellow egg masses on the under side of leaves may be picked by hand and crushed in small plantings, but use of the insecticide, even in small gardens, generally will be found to be cheaper.

The adult beetles are yellow or brownish with black spots on the back. The larvae or grubs, orange and yellow in color, and spiny or fuzzy, are more destructive than the adults.

HOGS ON PASTURE NEED WATER, SHADE

Hogs suffer greatly from heat and in the summer require shade, as well as ample water, in addition to adequate feed.

Where trees or brush do not provide natural shade, an artificial shade can be constructed by placing a framework on posts and about four feet above the ground. Straw or waste hay fastened to the framework makes a satisfactory shade—one that is cooler than boards or metal.

Old crankcase oil will settle the dust under the shelters and help control parasites.

Water keeps down body temperatures and helps the hogs digest their feed.

HELP FATHER TO BUILD FRIENDSHIP WITH CHILDREN

The time for father to start building up that lifelong friendship with his son or daughter is during the first year of his life. A baby responds well to the strong firm handling he gets from his father. He likes the deep tones of his father's voice.

A father at first may have a feeling of strangeness and uncertainty when with his child. Mother can be a help and encourage "daddy" to stay around. Do not shoot him away. Never show fear that he may do the wrong thing when he shows an interest in the baby. If dad is a bit awkward, leave the two alone to get acquainted without an audience.

First time for them to be together, when the baby can be awake and free to play and when daddy has a few minutes, send father and child on an exploring trip around the house. There are many things that a young child wants to see and handle. Many of these objects should be handled only under adult supervision. Many of the high places, cupboards and closets are prohibited to the child unless there is someone around to help him.

A father should be kept up to date. Inform him from day to day on the baby's newly-acquired interests and achievements. This will help a father know what to expect and he won't try to make his offspring do things he is not capable of doing. This will also help "dad" when he buys a new rattle or toy. The child can, by his actions, tell his parents what toys he will enjoy the most.

Most fathers are away from home during the day. They have not much time to spend with their children. This need not keep a lasting friendship from getting an early start if mothers make an effort to get the two together. It will take planning as well as words of encouragement.

Chambers Admits Perjury Charge

Also Admits He Was Traitor To Country While He Was Communist

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 4.—Whittaker Chambers admitted under defense cross-examination in the Alger Hiss trial Friday that he perjured himself last October before the special spy-investigating grand jury in New York.

It was Chambers' testimony before this jury, and Hiss' subsequent appearance before the panel, that led to the indictment of Hiss on the two counts of perjury under which he is currently being tried.

Chambers, under lashing questioning by Lloyd Paul Stryker, chief defense counsel for Hiss, said that when the grand jury had asked him about espionage, he had said he had no "direct knowledge" about it. He told Stryker:

Answer Was False

"My answer was false." Q. (By Stryker): "So you perjured yourself?"

A. (By Chambers): "Yes." Chambers admitted he did not give to the grand jury facts he subsequently gave in a deposition filed last November in pre-trial proceedings in Baltimore growing out of Hiss's $75,000 libel suit against him.

Under Stryker's questioning Chambers also admitted that during the 14 years he was a Communist he was a "traitor" to his country.

Psychiatrist Watches

Chambers, although never losing his poise and speaking calmly, at times even casually, was at all times under the close scrutiny of a defense-hired psychiatrist. During the day, he testified:

1. That he used several aliases while "in and out" of the Communist party.

2. That he lived with a woman not his wife.

3. That he left Columbia university after writing an anti-religious play which was severely criticized.

4. That he lied before he joined the Communist party, and after he "broke" with the party and quit in 1938.

5. That Communists had no computations about lying.

Flag Day Head Will Step Down

William T. Kerr Believes Younger Man Should Head Association He Founded

Probably for the last time, William T. Kerr of Yeadon, Pa., has been named president of the American Flag Day Association.

Mr. Kerr, a former Pittsburgher and well known in New Castle has asked that a younger, more active man be selected for the presidency after this year.

In 1893 Mr. Kerr conceived the idea of a Flag Day celebration. At that time he was in Pittsburgh. June 14 was selected as the day and over the half century Mr. Kerr has seen his idea grow until today June 14 is recognized in every state in the union.

Congressman Walters of Pennsylvania has presented a resolution to make June 14, Flag Day a national holiday. This has been the goal of Mr. Kerr for many years.

Strike Threatens Chocolate Plant

HERSHEY, Pa., June 4.—(INS)

—Union employees awaited a strike call which threatens to cripple operations at the Hershey Chocolate corporation at Hershey.

The chocolate maker and Local 464, Bakers and Confectioners Union, were stalemated over demands for a union shop.

John O. Shearer, business manager of the local, said the union rank and file voted two-to-one to grant the negotiating committee authority to set a strike date.

Federal law provides for a 30-day "cooling off" period between date of strike notification and the actual strike call.

Shearer said the strike would halt work at the chocolate plant and at the Hershey estates, but not the farms.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 4.—Odd evidence that the pen is mightier than the sword has just emanated from—of all places—West Point.

Cadet Richard G. Rumney of Sewell, N. J., will be graduated with honors and a typewriter from West Point within the next few days. Cadet Rumney, who is about to become a shave-tail, won the annual award offered by the Daughters of the American Revolution for the graduate with highest rating in natural and experimental philosophy.

Heretofore, the good ladies have always permitted the winner of their award to take his choice of a saber or binoculars. This year, however, the daughters told Cadet Rumney to name his own poison.

You could have knocked them over with a keyboard when he chose a typewriter instead of pistol, sabre, sword, blunderbuss or junior G-man's outfit.

During the next two weeks, scarcely a family in the nation but will have a half-Nelson on a daisy chain. There are now exercises for graduates all the way from kindergarten to college. He who has just bought a prophylactic plastic rat-tie as a graduation present for a two-year-old is now quitting nursery school next week with magna cum laude in block building and sand-pile tunnelling.

There is also in our family this June a sweet girl graduate from college. She has one of the first diplomas signed by Ike Eisenhower, who is now retired with writer's cramp after signing more than 8,000 diplomas for Columbia university and Barnard college students.

General Improvement

I am pleased to report, as a sign of general improvement in youth, that the valedictorian at the Barnard class night exercises announced that the Class of Forty-Nine would go forth to face the world minus bobby sox and saddle shoes.

I regard this as stop press news and the ultimate triumph of college education over natural inclination. I do not wish to fence the girls in, but I would like to feel that now, with sheepskins in their paddies, they could endure the confining effect of nylon hose and shoes with heels.

I would like to remind the sweet girl graduates that a woman of the world once told me that Miss Mary Garden, a temptress of considerable reputation in days gone by, declared that nothing was so alluring as a well turned ankle in a sheer stocking above a spike heel.

Honey Jams. I do not wish to put ideas into your heads, but Miss Garden wasn't just talking through her hat! There's a lot you don't learn in books, and Miss Garden knew a mile of it.

And speaking of graduation, in the one commencement address I have heard so far and the others I have skimmed through in the daily

Y Father And Sons Picnic At Campsite

Fathers and sons of the New Castle YMCA had an enjoyable picnic at Camp Fred L. Rentz along the Slippery Rock Friday evening.

More than 50 eager fathers and sons engaged in various sport activities including softball and volleyball games. The fathers took the measure of the boys in both events.

The boys also played capture the flag before the campfire program got underway.

Hot dogs, milk and ice cream were served to the hungry dads and lads.

After a program of group singing and story telling, the youngsters and oldsters alike were ready for home and bed.

Many of those in attendance expressed a desire to have the picnic an annual affair. Like the father and sons banquet, the picnic will become a part of the regular program designed to stimulate companionship between father and son.

Ellwood Burglars Are Being Sought

Police authorities of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio today are searching for burglars who looted the Guy Service station, Wampum Avenue and North Street, Ellwood City, of articles valued at $1,066.50, according to a teletype at New Castle police headquarters.

Among the articles stolen were pipes, radios, reels, rods, watches, cigarette lighters, sun-glasses, radio attachments, clocks, ornaments and cameras.

YOUTH BURNED BY FIRECRACKER

Hubert Gerstnecker, aged 17 years, of R.D. 8, a student at Senior high school, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Friday morning for a burn of the right arm, received when he was struck by a firecracker thrown by a companion.

Order Police To Watch Fireworks

Chief Robert D. Hanna, police bureau, today instructed all police, both patrolmen and in cruiser cars, to watch for violators of the city's fireworks ordinance which prohibits sale, possession or discharge. The chief said that when apprehensions occur, they will be prosecuted, and if found guilty, fines will be imposed. He pointed out that the state law also prohibits fireworks.

Cotton materials were first used for fashionable English dresses in the early part of the 18th century.

DRESS TO SUIT YOUR AGE
"My aunt has attractive features and figure but I think she spoils herself by trying at fifty-eight to look years younger than she is. She is petite and consequently wears girlish dresses and all kinds of face make-up to compensate for what she describes as the bloom of youth. Why not give some advice to women who have this complex?"

Answer: The older woman can remove years by arranging her hair in a soft, not too curly, fluffed out or in a long, trailing bob. A suggestion of wave with a soft roll across the back is most becoming to the mature woman. Obvious make-up on a wrinkled face is hideous. It adds years to an aging face. It adds rouge of a soft red-violet shade, a little powder and a suggestion of color to the lips will compensate for the lost bloom of youth. But just a touch of each! A definite outline on faded lips will merely accentuate the surrounding lines that inevitably appear with the years.

Eye make-up on the aging woman is a grave error. It tends to harden and age the face. The older woman with a petite figure must be careful in her selection of clothes, which she is too likely to look for in the junior or misses shops. Even though her lines are slender, there is a lack of flexibility about her figure which is exaggerated by girly-girly modes. It is better to purchase in the women's department and have its smallest size altered to fit even that size is too large.

Question: If a very dear friend suffers bereavement and I call to express my sympathy personally, must I also write her a letter of condolence?

Answer: If you see the bereaved person and express your sympathy, you need write no letter. Should she be "not at home" when you call, you may leave your card with your message of condolence written thereon. When distance prohibits such a call, a letter should be written immediately upon receiving word of the death.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Unusual Features To Plane Ride

Nature Works In Peculiar Manner

Nature works in a peculiar manner. One of nature's strange offspring is shown in the above photograph. It is a colt born of a riding horse and a donkey. The colt has a short body, long legs and ears. Born Saturday, the colt has been fed on a bottle, when its mother nearly died. It is owned by Arthur Lastoria of 204 North Cascade street.

Tuesday noon's meeting will be graced by the presence of the Ladies of the Lions, and other guests. As special speaker for the occasion, the club has secured Jim Swan, internationally known humorist. He will speak on the subject, "The lighter side of my experiences in the Marine Corps during the recent war."

In addition to all ladies of the Lions, members are privileged to bring other guests.

HERE AND THERE
IN SPORTS' LAND

BENNY ROCCO, who helped direct the pugilistic affairs of his heavyweight brother, Emmett, two decades ago, is somewhat abashed at the way some present day boxers hope to attain 'condition' for a grueling fight. "They don't go on the road, skip rope for a few minutes, box four or five rounds, take a 'shower' then call it a day," Benny said. He compared this with that which Emmett employed, which never found him wanting for good 'condition' when the first bell rang. "Emmett went on the road for a five miles spin every morning, returned, partook of a light breakfast, had dinner, and two hours later entered the gym, where he punched the small bag for eye-accuracy and shoulder development, hit the big bag heavily, shadow-boxed, after which he would spar with a partner for at least six rounds. Some times he would wrestle, and upon occasions, I've known him to carry an axe, and during a spin on the road, stop to chop heavy logs," Benny recalled, after which he said: "Some present day boxers believe all they need do to get 'into shape' is to smoke a cigarette."

Here & There believes that if some present day fighters, who are making a grievous error, in not training properly, were to follow the system, prescribed by Bob Fitzsimmons, at different times, middle-weight and heavyweight champion, it would prove beneficial.

Bob slept in a well ventilated room which would be hit by the first rays of the morning sun. He arose and partook of a breakfast of dry toast, soft boiled eggs, weak tea, without milk or sugar, after which he would read the newspapers.

Giving time for the food to digest, he would take a spin of from five to ten miles on the road. The reading of the newspapers gave him something to think about and broke the monotony of the hour. He would run fastest on the home-stretch to work up a good sweat.

While perspiring in the sun, he would partake of some beef tea, then take a shower, which was followed by a thorough rub with alcohol. Hours later, his dinner would consist of roast beef, mutton or beefsteak, a few vegetables, a little jelly, tea, and an apple or orange for dessert.

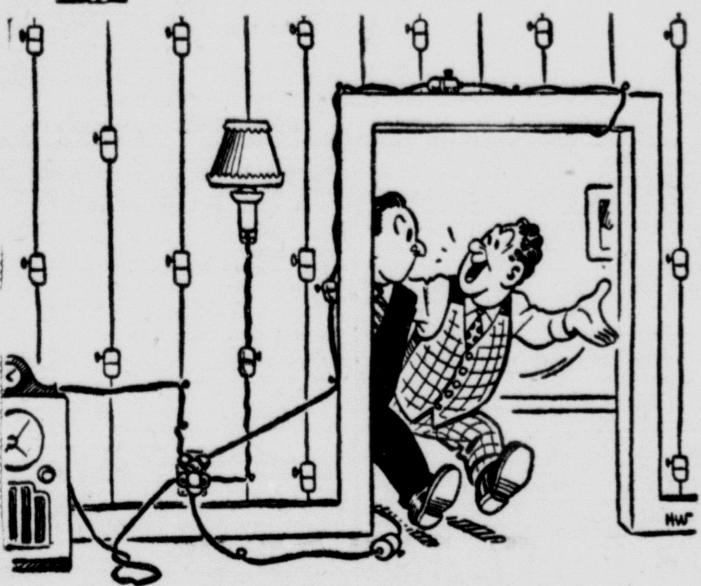

Fitz abstained from pies and puddings although he wasn't averse to taking a little ice cream with his meals. He shunned liquor, beer and ale, which he opined was no good for a man in training. Weak tea or a cup of hot water, or hot milk, not boiled, quenched his thirst.

After the dinner digested he would swing Indian clubs, use the dumbbells, punch the bags, and skip rope, which strengthened his legs and made his hands and feet fast. He would then box, the number of rounds being judged by the number of rounds he was to fight. His daily training in the gym lasted for about 90 minutes.

He always took a light supper of dry bread, or toast, weak tea, cold beef, broiled chicken or mutton. He was careful not to use too much salt, pepper, butter or have too much grease on his foods, and at all times was "in the hay" early. Here & There learns from 'Boxing', written years ago by Sam C. Austin, Sporting Editor of the Police Gazette.

The Gold Cup, which will be run the final day of the June 4th through July 16 meeting at Ascot Park, carries a purse of $7500 this year for the two mile distance and will again be Ohio's richest thoroughbred race.

Carl Sturges, bespectacled extra point kicker on Penn State's 1948 football team, has been named director of community recreation at Latrobe. The Washington, D. C., specialist last season kicked 25 of 32 extra point attempts.

Nats Rally In Ninth To Beat Butler 8-7, Oil City Here Tonight

Giardullo Wins Third In Relief Role, Knisely Bats In Winning Run

Fireman Mike Giardullo, won his third victory of the season last night as Gordon Knisely, hit a game winning single over second base, the Sunday ball at 3 o'clock. The Nats much improved in hitting with New Castle Kiel in the lineup, 2 for 4 trips last night, hope to upset the White Sox farmhands tonight.

Manager Billy Mongiello has nominated his newest pitching acquisition, Art Koepken, former Johnstown pitcher, as the Nats' hurler for tonight. The big right-hander is reported ready. Koepken will be hard to beat if he is right tonight.

The Nats have a few more replacements reporting here today and tomorrow, and then hope to start on the move for a first division berth. If the Nats start hitting they will win a lot of ball games. The pitching is as good as any in the league. Churchill made an unsuccessful bid for his fifth win last night, being removed in the second inning. The loser was Al Pelot who relieved Dick Gilkerson in the climatic ninth inning and gave up the winning tally.

Here's What Happened

You wouldn't have given much for the chances of the Nats winning as they went into the last of the ninth trailing, 1 to 4, and having but four hits off Lefty Dick Gilkerson, and then it happened.

Young Gene Bilo of Ellwood City was sent in to bat for Mike Giardullo, the first man up. Bilo walked, Marve Feltman fanned, Manager Billy Mongiello came through with a right field single. Bilo raced to third, Bill Torrey worked Gilkerson for a walk. Pelot relieved. Herman Kiel banged a long fly to right and Bilo scored. Torrey held first and Mongiello took third, filling the bases. Frank Wagner batted for Maier and up with an infield single at second. Torrey reaching second. Mongiello ready at third. The bases are full and Bucchioni draws a

Segale Bangs Homer

The few Butler fans in the park had something to cheer about in the second inning when big Charley Segale, the rightfielder, belted a Churchill pitch over the left-center field wall to lead off the inning that produced three Butler runs and derrick Churchill. Glardullo choked off the Butler rally by fanning Turtko to end the inning. Butler batted in two runs in the fourth frame on three singles.

The Nats batted in two runs in the third inning. With two out Torrey whipped a double to left-center, Kiel followed suit with a resounding double to deep center, scoring Torrey, and Mongiello, who had worked a walk off the Butler flinger.

Over 500 Attend

The Nats added two more in the eighth on two hits, singles by Kiel and Knisely and a walk to Mongiello. Knisely batted in four of the Nats tallies last night. Kiel batted in two, Torrey one and Bucchioni one.

Over 500 fans turned out for "ladies' night" and saw a good ball game.

HIGHLIGHTS on SPORTS

by WINTER'S

Sonja Henie—Ice Queen

Sonja Henie, who had already held the title of World's Champion Ice Skater for five years, added another triumph at Lake Placid, N. Y. in February 1938, when she danced on skates to another championship for herself and Norway, with a magnificent performance in figure skating.

Sonja, a beautiful sight to behold in shimmering white velvet, satin and ermine, spotted with rhinestones, was a perfect model for an artist to paint as the "Queen of Ice Skates".

Sonja glided on the ice to start the five minute event for elective figures, and within a few seconds the onlookers realized they were witnessing the performance of a real artist. She gave her own version of the difficult Jackson Hains spin several times, then the Lutz Jump and Alex Paulsen, a turn and a half in the air before landing on one foot. Executing difficult jumps, spins, spirals and dance steps that were almost impossible for others, she captured the hearts of the spectators as they gasped in amazement, then wildly cheered for their Queen.

You too, will "cheer wildly" for the Arrow shirts, ties and handkerchiefs . . . at the Winter Company, the finest grade men's store in town. Select your favorites from the sets that are designed to match and will harmonize with our new summer suits.

Cleveland Indians Starting To Climb, Top Red Sox 8 To 1

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 4—The adage that you can't keep good man down is currently working out quite nicely in the case of the world's champion Cleveland Indians.

The chastened Clevelanders, since returning from a disastrous eastern trip which brought down upon them the wrath of president

Bill Veeck, have won seven out of nine.

Today they boast a percentage figure of .500, the minimum hallmark of semi-respectability in the big show.

Wynn Wins

Yesterday pitcher Early Wynn further justified the wisdom of the deal which brought him to Cleveland from Washington when he held the Boston Red Sox to four hits and romped home with an 8 to 1 win. Early added insult to injury by collecting his first two hits of the season.

The Indians whacked Joe Dobson for six runs in the very first inning. They advanced to fifth place in the American league standings, passing the Philadelphia Athletics, who lost by a run in Detroit for the third straight day, 4-2, this time to Hal Newhouser.

Nats Drub Browns

In one night game, the strangely volatile Senators delivered another broadside that practically devastated the Browns, 12-3, and left the former in sole possession of second place, a half-game in front of the Tigers.

In the other, Yankee pitching again was saved by Yankee power in Chicago, the league leaders eking out a 9-7 verdict to maintain their six-game margin over the American league field.

In the National league, Brooklyn and the New York Giants won, both advancing to within a game and a half of the pace-setting Boston Braves, who were idle along with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Minner Wins Game

Brooklyn scored four runs with two out in the seventh inning and nosed out the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 2. Relief pitcher Paul Minner won his own game with a single after Gil Hodges hit a two-cap and beat them 3 to 1.

Jim Martin, Bessemer's ace righthander, twirled a 13 to 0 no-hit game against Lowellville at Bessemer last night.

The rangy son of the team's manager struck out five and walked three. A fourth man reached first base on an error. A total of 25 men strolled plateward to attempt to hang a base hit during the seven-inning stint.

Martin's "hall of fame" performance is the first no-hitter pitched in the County league this season.

Score Early
Bessemer scored all of its runs in the first four innings. An eighth uprising in the third was more than enough for young Mr. Martin, who had the Lowellville batsmen eating out of his hand.

The win enabled Bessemer to stay near the top of the standing, only a half game off the pace.
